

Sales leadership change at Fellowes

Fellowes has confirmed that Beth Wright will lead the company's sales effort in North America.

By Andy Braithwaite - 17 April 2019

Fellowes has confirmed that Beth Wright will lead the company's sales effort in North America.

Wright – who joined the manufacturer last year – has been named VP of Sales – North America, effective immediately. The appointment comes following a number of internal organisational adjustments and the news that Sam Richardson, VP of Sales – Americas, has decided to leave Fellowes to pursue other career opportunities.

"Over the past two and a half years, Sam has made significant contributions to Fellowes and we remain grateful for the progress that he has led during his time here," said CEO John Fellowes.

Commenting on Wright's promotion, Fellowes added: "Beth has progressed and been very successful in her nearly 20-year tenure in the business products industry and embodies the values of Fellowes.

"Over the coming weeks, Beth and her team will be working with customers to ensure that there is a smooth transition in our trade partnerships."

Wright was named Professional of the Year at OPI's 2017 European Office Products Awards.

Itasca (IL), USA