Hana™ The Design Story

The Challenge

Ergonomic accessories can be uninspiring. Typical ergonomic accessories often lack style and design, and are made from undesirable and low quality materials. The Fellowes Innovation Team needed to design an inspiring range of premium ergonomic products with effortless functionality, aesthetic excellence and to ultimately provide an enhanced user experience.

Hana™ was crafted to bring style, sophistication and ergonomic excellence to the workspace. Hana was developed around the user and the way they work. Movement was key. The team focused on developing a range that would inspire and energize the user.

The Hana™ Foot Support concept was designed around a free moving platform that would encourage micromovements throughout the day, improving circulation and energising the user.

The Hana™ Laptop Support needed to be flexible and effortless to use to facilitate ergonomic and collaborative working, so a gas spring arm was incorporated to allow free and easy movement.

Going to the next level was crucial in order to bring something truly unique to the end user. USB connectivity and fast charging ports were integrated into the monitor and laptop supports to enhance productivity.

Distinctive and stylish was the desired look for Hana™, which is why the range encompasses premium and durable materials including leather, wood and metal.
